SIMPLY DELIGHTFUL MUSIC LESSONS

Ideas for music making and joy creating activities for you and your family. Challenge yourselves to complete as many as you can! Share pictures and stories with your teacher throughout the month.

Build your own Kazoo horn	Follow your Musicologie studio's Facebook page. Better yet, follow all 4 - Dublin, Grandview, Lewis Center and Westerville!	Josh Krajcik, longtime Columbus singer-songwriter and former X-Factor contestant, hosts "Quarantine concerts" daily at 2 p.m.	Plan a music theme night for your family. Dress up and listen to classical music while you dine by candlelight. What other theme night ideas can you think of and share?
Bring back musical chairs. Clear out a space, circle up the dining room chairs, and have someone man the pause button. Laughter ensues.	Share with friends that Musicologie has temporarily moved to video lessons!	Make Kids Excited to Play a Song Over and Over	Have a djembe or a ukulele? Pots and pans and a toy xylophone? With your family, simply make music together.
Try this ear training exercise	Join the #windowconnections campaign and share a message of hope with your neighbors and passersby	Listen to a set piece and list all the instruments/dynamics you hear, draw or color the emotions you feel. More advanced: what key it's in, write out rhythms	Don't think you're a singer, think again!
Practice Dice Game: Roll twice. 1st roll is how many times you play the song. 2nd roll is specifically how you play the song. 1: Play finger numbers in the air 2: Clap the rhythm, tap foot 3: Phantom playing (put fingers on the keys and tap, but don't actually make a sound) 4: Play as soft as you can 5: Play as fast as you can 6: Play any way you'd like!	What is your musical history?	Write us an email about what you thought about your first video lesson!	Create art about what music means to you. Think: posters you could use as a backdrop on stage. SAVE these for a future collaborative project.
